Death by Wrongful Act. — Some of the courts which hold that the burden is on the plaintiff to show the absence of contributory negligence, presume, in actions for wrongful death, that the deceased was in the exercise of due care if there be no evidence on the subject. W. 966, it is said: "It is also insisted that the evidence of the plaintiff and of his own witnesses exposed him to a suspicion of contributory negligence, and that, therefore, the burden was upon him to show that he was not guilty of such negligence. That rule was at one time recognized by this court as the law of this state, but it is now definitely settled that in every case in which the plaintiff seeks to recover of the defendant on the ground of negligence of the defendant, and the defendant relies upon the defense of contributory negligence, in order to maintain that defense, it must appear by a preponderance of the evidence that the plaintiff was guilty of such negligence."

North Dakota.— Laws N. Dak. 1903, c. 69, p. 78, authorizing the extension of the boundaries of S. county so as to include certain unorganized territory, was held unconstitutional because it did not require the consent of a majority of the voters of S. county. State v. Stark County, 14 N. Dak. 368, 103 N. W. 913.

In Oklahoma it was held that a court of equity had no power to restrain or enjoin the constitutional convention, from submission of the constitution or any proposition therein contained, which would change the boundary lines of certain counties, to a vote of the people in advance of its adoption and ratification by the people, and its approval by the president. 912. 2. Proceeding Instituted by Public Officers. — A bill to enjoin an election to determine whether a new county shall be created, cannot be maintained by a justice of the peace or members of the board of supervisors until they are directly affected. Conner v. Gray, 88 Miss. 489, 9 Ann. Cas. 120, 41 So. 186.

3. Question Raised by Taxpayers. — In Mississippi it was held that the creation of a new county from parts of old counties would not be enjoined because of additional expense to taxpayers. Conner v. Gray, 88 Miss. 489, 9 Ann. Cas. 120, 41 So. 186.

913. 1. Dissolution of County.— Where an existing corporation is dissolved and its territory annexed to another corporation, the latter succeeds to the obligations as well as to the property of the dissolved corporation. Barnard v. Polk County, 98 Minn. 289, 108 N. W. 294.

2. Where a County Is Dissolved, the liability for the debts of the old corporation then rests upon the theory that the one corporation is the successor of the other, or upon the general principle that the corporation which receives the territory and the benefits resulting therefrom must also assume the debts. Barnard v. Polk County, 98 Minn. 289, 108 N. W. 294.

The Idaho Constitution provides that "when any part of a county is stricken off and attached to another county, the part stricken off shall be held to pay its ratable proportion of all then existing liabilities of the county from which it is taken." Therefore the detached territory continues liable for its ratable proportion of the indebtedness existing against the mother county at the time of segregation. Shoshone County v. Profit, 11 Idaho 763, 84 Pac. 712.

3. The Idaho Constitution is as much a prohibition against the legislature imposing the ratable proportion of indebtedness on the county to which the detached territory is annexed as it is a prohibition against leaving the entire indebtedness to be paid by the old county from which the portion is stricken off. Shoshone County v. Profit, 11 Idaho 763, 84 Pac. 712.

In Georgia it was held that after the passage of an act to lay out and organize a new county, and while it was in process of organization, the county commissioners of the old county could not bind persons whose residences and property were cut off, by the levy of a special or extra tax not for the purpose of meeting a liability arising prior to the creation of the new county. Pope v. Matthews, 125 Ga. 341, 54 S. E. 152.

Under a South Carolina Statute creating a township for the purpose of giving aid to a railway, and declaring that the county auditor and treasurer should levy and collect the taxes for the payment of the bonds issued, on the change of the boundaries which placed the township within another county it was the duty of the officers of the latter county to levy and collect the taxes. Folsom v. Greenwood County, (C. C. A.) 137 Fed. 449.

The new county will not be liable for that portion of a tax levy necessary for the purpose of erecting new bridges when the contracts were entered into after the date of the act creating the new county. Yow v. Sullivan, 129 Ga. 187, 58 S. E. 662.

Where the action of a board of county commissioners is only voidable a review thereof must be had by appeal. Johnston v. Savidge, 11 Idaho 204, 81 Pac. 616.

8. Indiana — When Appeal Lies. — Summe v. Browne, 165 Ind. 490, 76 N. E. 99.

In Carr v. Duhme, 167 Ind. 76, 78 N. E. 322, it was held that an appeal lies only from a final decision of the board of commissioners.

COUNTY-SEAT.

1013. 1. Judicial Notice. — A court will take judicial notice that a certain place is a county seat, Phillips v. Lindley, 112 N. Y. App. Div. 283, 98 N. Y. Supp. 423; even that it is a de facto county seat, Day County v. Kansas, (Okla. 1907) 91 Pac. 699; and that a county seat is a municipal corporation. Brownsville v. Arbuckle, (Ky. 1907) 99 S. W. 239.

1014. 5. May Be at Any Point Within County. — State v. Porter, 145 Ala. 541, 40 So. 144.

1015. 1. Designation Sufficient if Place Well Known. — In Commissioners Ct. v. State, (Ala. 1907) 44 So. 465, it was held that the use of the words "city, town, or village," in an act designating to what places a county seat may be removed, was simply to enable the voters to know the locality, and a place containing a post office, a store, and one residence was held to be a village.

1019. 4. In Oklahoma, under Territorial Government, the removal of a county seat by the votes of a county in accordance with an act of the legislature was required to be subsequently legalized by an Act of Congress. Territory v. Yates, 17 Okla. 465, 87 Pac. 863.

1020. 1. Not a Delegation of Legislative Power. — Stanton v. Essex County, (Supm. Ct. Spec. T.) 48 Misc. (N. Y.) 415, 96 N. Y. Supp. 840.

3. When Consent of Electors Not Required. — No change in the county seat, within the meaning of the requirement of submission to a vote of the people, is worked by a mere removal of the county buildings from one site to another in the same town, Christie v. Chosen Freeholders, (N. J. 1907) 66 Atl. 1073; or by the building of an additional court house, Lyon v. Steuben County, 115 N. Y. App. Div. 193, 100 N. Y. Supp. 676.

1028. 2. De Kalb County Ct. v. Pogue, 115 Ill. App. 391; State v. Boyden, (S. Dak. 1906) 108 N. W. 897.

1029. 3. Withdrawal Petition — Formality Required. — A withdrawal petition must be presented with the same formality as the original petition in order to be effective. State v. Porter, 145 Ala. 541, 40 So. 144.

1030. 7. Mann v. Mercer County Ct., 58 W. Va. 651, 52 S. E. 776.

1031. 1. Kaufer v. Ford, 100 Minn. 49, 110 N. W. 364.

2. Chambers v. Cline, 60 W. Va. 588, 55 S. E. 999.

1034. 2. Vote Required to Remove. — In Mississippi a majority of the votes cast is sufficient if the contemplated removal is to a point nearer to the center of the county; otherwise consent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county is required. Simpson County v. Buckley, 85 Miss. 713, 38 So. 104.

3. Ex p. Owens, 148 Ala. 402, 42 So. 676.

1035. 1. Evidence. — Where a two-thirds vote of the electors of a county is necessary, testimony in an election contest showing the number of names in the registration books after erasure therefrom of the names of all persons erroneously thereon, or who have died, removed, or become disqualified as electors, is competent though not conclusive proof of the number of qualified electors in the county. Simpson County v. Buckley, 85 Miss. 713, 38 So. 104.

2. Special Election. — Where an election in general election year is declared void it is competent for the court to order a special election in the subsequent year. Chambers v. Cline, 60 W. Va. 588, 55 S. E. 999.

4. Simpson County v. Buckley, 85 Miss. 713, 38 So. 104.

1040. 4. Loomis v. Hodson, 224 Ill. 147, 79 N. E. 590.

5. Griffin v. Walworth County, (S. Dak. 1905) 104 N. W. 1117.

Withdrawing Contestants Liable for Costs. — Reese v. Cannon, 80 Ark. 574, 98 S. W. 370.

1041. 1. When Collateral Attack Allowed. — When a board of supervisors exceeded its jurisdiction, and no direct appeal was taken from its decision, it was held that such decision might be collaterally attacked. Simpson County v. Buckley, 85 Miss. 713, 38 So. 104.

3. Conditional Subscriptions for County Buildings. — The fact that two of the county commissioners were stockholders in the company that donated the lot to the county upon which the court house is to be built can have no possible effect upon the validity of the removal of the county seat. Commissioners Ct. v. State, (Ala. 1907) 44 So. 465.

Holidays Included. — A charter party provided: "Seven weather working days (Sundays and holidays excepted) to be allowed by owners to charterers for loading," and that for any time beyond these periods the charterers should pay to the owners demurrage at a certain rate per day. Loading took place on two holidays, but there was no evidence as to the terms upon which the parties worked. It was held that the inference to be drawn from the fact that the holidays were worked upon was that the parties had agreed to treat them as working days, and that therefore they should be included in the lay days. Eq. 258, 62 Atl. 542; Montgomery v. Whitehead, (Colo. 1907) 90 Pac. 509, in which case the court approved the general rule that creditors who become such after a dividend has been declared cannot question the right of the corporation to declare such dividend, but held that the rule had no application to the case at bar.

Nature of Liability — Statute of Limitations. — Where a stockholder has no notice that dividends received by him were paid out of capital, instead of profits, a receiver of the corporation can be entitled to their return, to pay corporate debts, only on the equitable doctrine that the money received, as dividends, was impressed with a trust; but the trust so raised belongs to the class of implied or constructive trusts, and as to such trusts the general rule is that in the absence of fraud, the statutes of limitations are applicable. 707. 3. Under the New Jersey statute providing that the directors shall be jointly and severally liable, it has been held that a director who, notwithstanding that he had knowledge that a dividend was to be paid out of capital, voted therefor, was liable to a stockholder, although a committee, chosen by a new board of directors and a majority of the stockholders, had decided not to proceed against the directors declaring the dividend. Statutory Rule in England. — The guiding principle on which the court will exercise its discretion under section 31 of the Matrimonial Causes Act, 1857, in favor of a petitioner guilty of adultery, is that the court must have regard not only to the rights and liabilities of the matrimonial person wronged and the wrongdoer respectively, but also to the interests of society and public morality. It is insufficient to excuse the adultery of a petitioner that a separation prior to such adultery was brought about by the conduct of the respondent. Evans v. Evans, (1906) P. 125, 75 L. J. P. 27, 94 L. T. N. S. 616, 22 Times L. Rep. 322.

To enable the court to exercise its discretion in favor of a wife who is petitioning for a divorce and who has herself committed adultery, she must show that her adultery was the necessary and reasonable consequence of her husband's conduct. Tulk v. Tulk, 23 Times L. Rep. 120.

Where a wife left her husband and some years afterwards he committed adultery with another woman, the court, on the husband's petition for dissolution of marriage on the ground of his wife's adultery, in the exercise of its discretion in the circumstances of the case refused to make a decree, and dismissed the petition. Todd v. Todd, 23 Times L. Rep. 9.

The petitioner was an actress, and was at the time of her marriage sixteen years old and an orphan. The respondent seduced her and afterwards married her; he took her to various places and compelled her to obtain money by prostitution, he taking the money and ill-treating her. After about two years she ran away, and while away occasionally obtained money by prostitution, as she was destitute. The court held that the facts of the case justified it in pronouncing a decree in the petitioner's favor, notwithstanding her adultery. Dodson v. Dodson, 54 W. R. 220.

EIGHT-HOUR LAWS.

162. 1. Object of Statutes Is to Benefit Laborers. — State v. Livingston Concrete Bldg., etc., Co., 34 Mont. 570, 9 Ann. Cas. 204, 87 Pac. 980.

2. Unconstitutional. — Laws N. Y. 1897, c. 415, art. 8, § 110, prohibiting the employment in bakeries of any employee for more than sixty hours a week or more than ten hours a day, is a violation of the Federal Constitution with regard to the freedom of contract, and not a proper exercise of the state police power. Lochner v. New York, 198 U. S. 45, 3 Ann. Cas. 1133, 25 U. S. Sup. Ct. 539, reversing 177 N. Y. 145, 69 N. E. 373.

Constitutionality. — Act Cong. Aug. 1, 1892, c. 352, relating to the hours of employees on the public works of the United States and of the District of Columbia, is valid. Ellis v. U. S., 206 U. S. 246, 27 U. S. Sup. Ct. 600.

Municipal or State Works. — The Colorado statute, making it a misdemeanor to employ a person more than eight hours a day upon any municipal work, has been held not to be a proper exercise of police power, but valid on the ground that the state may prescribe for its governmental branches the terms and conditions on which work of a public nature may be done. Keefe v. People, 37 Colo. 317, 87 Pac. 791.

The Montana statute providing that eight hours shall be a day's work on certain municipal work, and making a violation thereof a misdemeanor, has been held not to be invalid for failure to provide for a suspension of its operation in an emergency. Nor is the statute a violation of the police power or of the freedom to contract, nor does it deny the equal protection of the laws. State v. Livingston Concrete Bldg., etc., Co., 34 Mont. 570, 9 Ann. Cas. 204, 87 Pac. 980.

164. 2. To Whom Applicable. — A statute which makes it a misdemeanor for "every person" to violate the Eight-hour Law applies to the employee as well as the employer. State v. Livingston Concrete Bldg., etc., Co., 34 Mont. 570, 9 Ann. Cas. 204, 87 Pac. 980.

A statute limiting a day's work by all coal "miners and laborers" to eight hours, and providing that "any owner, lessee, or operator, his or its agent, employees, or servants," violating its provisions shall be liable to a fine or imprisonment, applies only to employees of the grade of "agent," and not to a miner. State v. Thompson, 15 Wyo. 136, 87 Pac. 433.

United States Statutes. — In construing Act Cong. Aug. 1, 1892, c. 352, it has been held that persons employed on tugs, dredges, and scows employed by a contractor in dredging a channel in Boston harbor are not "laborers and mechanics" or employed on "the public works" of the United States, within the meaning of the statute. Ellis v. U. S., 206 U. S. 246, 27 U. S. Sup. Ct. 600.

Exception to Statute. — Disappointment of a contractor with regard to obtaining some of his materials does not create an "extraordinary emergency" constituting an exception to the limit of hours of work prescribed by Act Cong. Aug. 1, 1892, c. 352. Ellis v. U. S., 206 U. S. 246, 27 U. S. Sup. Ct. 600.

Failure of a Laborer to Work Eight Hours in every working day cannot subject him to punishment under a statute passed for his benefit. State v. Livingston Concrete Bldg., etc., Co., 34 Mont. 570, 9 Ann. Cas. 204, 87 Pac. 980.

Failure of the Insurer to Defend and Advice to the Insured Not to Resist a Claim have been held to waive an objection that the claim was not one covered by the policy. Fidelity, etc., Co. v. Southern R. News Co., (Ky. 1907) 101 S. W. 900.

14. 1. Amount of Liability. — It has been held that where the insurer, under a policy giving it the right to settle claims, rejects a settlement offered, and a judgment for a larger amount is obtained by the insured, the insurer cannot be held for the difference. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Maryland Casualty Co., 114 La. 153, 38 So. 89.

Where the insurer has contracted to defend actions for personal injuries brought against the insured by employees, the fact that elements of damages not insured against, as well as some that were, are alleged does not alter the insured's obligation for the expense of a defense. Globe Navigation Co. v. Maryland Casualty Co., 39 Wash. 299, 81 Pac. 826.

Valued Policies — Charges in Excess of Contract Limit. — Under a policy limiting the insurer's liability to a stipulated sum and giving to the insurer the right at its election to defend at its own expense proceedings against the insured, costs and interest paid by the insured in addition to a judgment against him of the full amount stipulated cannot be recovered from the insurer. Davison v. Maryland Casualty Co., (Mass. 1908) 83 N. E. Rep. 407 (interest); Munro v. Maryland Casualty Co., (Supm. Ct. Tr. T.) 48 Misc. (N. Y.) 183, 96 N. Y. Supp. 705 (costs). And the same has been held as to both costs and interest though the action was defended by the insurer. National, etc., Worsted Mills v. Frankfort Marine Acc., etc., Ins. Co., (R. I. 1907) 66 Atl. 58.

16. 7. A Suit by the Employee against the Insurer is not maintainable where the policy provides for liability only in suit by the insurer, after he has paid a judgment. Carter v. Ætna L. Ins. Co., (Kan. 1907) 91 Pac. 178.

Judgment Creditor. — Where the insurer is liable only after the insured has paid an adverse judgment, and before paying it the insured becomes insolvent, the judgment creditor cannot recover of the insurer. Beyer v. International Aluminum Co., 115 N. Y. App. Div. 853, 101 N. Y. Supp. 83.

An Assignee of the insured who pays the liability may recover of the insurer, although the policy stipulated that no action shall be brought except by the insured himself, after payment of a judgment. Maryland Casualty Co. v. Omaha Electric Light, etc., Co., (C. C. A.) 157 Fed. 511.

Parties. — Where a judgment has been obtained against the insured in an action defended by the insurer, and a receiver is subsequently appointed for the insured, the receiver is a necessary party to a bill in equity to compel the insurer to pay the judgment. Moore v. Maryland Casualty Co., 73 N. H. 518, 63 Atl. 490.

17. 1. Where the Policy Bound the Insurer Only to Pay After Satisfaction of a judgment by the insured, it was held that the amount of a judgment against the insured cannot be obtained by garnishment against the insurer. Allen v. Ætna L. Ins. Co., (C. C. A.) 145 Fed. 881.

3. Carter v. Ætna L. Ins. Co., (Kan. 1907) 91 Pac. 178; U. S. Tube, etc., Co. v. Maryland Casualty Co., (Pa. 1908) 68 Atl. 1026; Edgefield Mfg. Co. v. Maryland Casualty Co., (S. Car. 1907) 58 S. E. 969.

4. A Provision Deferring Accrual of the Right of Action until the Loss Is "Paid" has been held to be satisfied by giving promissory notes for the amount of the judgment. Kennedy v. Fidelity, etc., Co., 100 Minn. 1, 110 N. W. 97.

5. The Policy Sometimes Defers Accrual of the Right of Action until a judgment against the insured is rendered and paid. Allen v. Ætna L. Ins. Co., (C. C. A.) 145 Fed. 881; Texas Short Line R. Co. v. Waymire, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 89 S. W. 452. And see generally other cases set out in this title, passim.

Under a policy providing for accrual of liability only after payment of a judgment obtained after trial of the issue, the insurer was held liable for the amount of a settlement made by the insured in good faith after notice to the insurer, who refused to offer advice or take part in the case. Bradley v. Standard L., etc., Ins. Co., (Supm. Ct. Tr. T.) 46 Misc. (N. Y.) 41, 93 N. Y. Supp. 245.

Waiver. — A provision that no action shall be commenced against the insurer until the insured has paid an adverse judgment is not waived by the insurer's denying liability before that time. Texas Short Line R. Co. v. Waymire, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 89 S. W. 452.

7. Sufficiency of Notice. — A notice full and accurate enough to apprise the insurer of the injury and the probable liability is sufficient, though not highly particularized and minutely accurate. Moran Bros. Co. v. Pacific Coast Casualty Co., (Wash. 1908) 94 Pac. 106.

Waiver. — A stipulation as to time of notification is not waived by the insurer's participating in the defense, having first notified the insured that the question of forfeiture was reserved. Edgefield Mfg. Co. v. Maryland Casualty Co., (S. Car. 1907) 58 S. E. 969.

18. 2. Where a policy was made subject to a condition that the employer should give immediate notice of any accident causing injury to a workman, and to a further condition that the observance and performance by the employer of the times and terms set out in the policy, so far as they contained anything to be done by the employer, were the essence of the contract, it was held that, in the absence of evidence that the employer either knew of, or had the opportunity of knowing of, the existence of the condition at the date of the accident, the condition was one with which it was impossible to comply; that, as regards a risk which resulted in a claim before the insured had knowledge of the condition, the true inference was that the insurers never imposed the condition on the employer, and that the latter was therefore entitled to recover on the policy. In re Coleman's Depositories, (1907) 2 K. B. 798.

3. Excusable Delay. — Where the officer in charge was ill when the accident happened, and subsequently died, and most of the office force were ill from an epidemic of smallpox, delay beyond the stipulated time for notice was held to be excusable. Edgefield Mfg. Co. v. Maryland Casualty Co., (S. Car. 1907) 58 S. E. 969.

19. 1. Provision Limiting Time for Bringing an Action to Thirty Days after payment of the loss has been held to be void as against public policy. Travelers' Ins. Co. v. Henderson Cotton Mills, (Ky. 1905) 85 S. W. 1090.

3. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Maryland Casualty Co., 114 La. 38, 38 So. 89.

Costs. — Where the insurer, contrary to the policy, fails to defend an action, he becomes liable for costs, though the policy stipulates against such liability. Travelers' Ins. Co. v. Henderson Cotton Mills, (Ky. 1905) 85 S. W. 1090. And nonliability for costs may be waived by appearing in the action and consenting to a judgment for costs. Myton v. Fidelity, etc., Co., 117 Mo. App. 442, 92 S. W. 1149.

An agreement of the insurer to "defend at its own cost" actions brought against the insured, makes the insurer liable for all necessary expenses of defense, and does not mean court "costs" merely. Maryland Casualty Co. v. Omaha Electric Light, etc., Co., (C. C. A.) 157 Fed. 514.

Where a policy denies to the insured the right to compromise any claim without written authority, and binds the insurer only for money actually paid by the insured in satisfaction of a judgment, and by its terms the insurer is to defend all suits, the insurer is liable for the amount of a reasonable settlement made by the insured, after the insurer refuses to defend and denies all liability. St. Louis Dressed Beef, etc., Co. v. Maryland Casualty Co., 102 U. S. 173, 26 U. S. Sup. Ct. 400.

ENDOWMENT INSURANCE.

27. 3. Representations of a Prospectus cannot be made the basis of a suit to recover accumulated dividends to an amount that it is therein estimated will accrue to the insured. Langdon v. Northwestern Mut. L. Ins. Co., 116 N. Y. App. Div. 558, 101 N. Y. Supp. 914.

Waiver. — Payment of additional premiums after the accrual of the right to an endowment fund, when such payment is made upon representations by the company that they are necessary to keep the policy good, does not work a waiver of the right to the endowment fund. Hopkins v. Northwestern Nat. L. Ins. Co., 41 Wash. 592, 83 Pac. 1019.

To render a master liable on the ground of negligence in employing an incompetent servant, the act of the servant must be one due to his incompetency as a servant. Famularo v. Oil Well Supply Co., (Supm. Ct. Tr. T.) 56 Misc. (N. Y.) 75, 105 N. Y. Supp. 1063.

The master is not required to exercise as high a degree of care in ascertaining whether a servant continues to be competent as he is required to exercise in the first selection, because careful and skilful men as a rule become more careful and skilful with the practice of their occupation, and the legal presumption is that competent servants continue to be so. What Constitutes Incompetency. An instruction that "incompetency in the law of negligence means want of ability suitable to the task, either as regards natural qualities or experience, or deficiency of disposition, or want of disposition to use one's experience and abilities properly — incompetency may exist not alone in physical or mental attributes, but in the disposition with which a person performs his duties, and though he may be physically and mentally able to do all that is required of him, his disposition towards his work, and towards his employer, and towards his fellow servants, may make him an incompetent man," is not erroneous. Responsibility of contractors for injury received by workmen rests upon their freedom of action in respect to selection of, and to superintendence over the latter. When the individual workmen, instead of allowing matters to take their usual shape and course, make it a condition of their accepting service that the contractor will yield in their favor this right of freedom of action, they absolve him from the responsibility which otherwise would be thrown upon him and look to that of their own selected agencies. Statutory Notice of Injury. — Chisholm v. Manhattan R. Co., 116 N. Y. App. Div. 320, 101 N. Y. Supp. 622.

Under the Texas Statute, which abrogates the relation of fellow servant as regards railway employees where one has superintendency over another, the one having the superintendency may recover against the railway company for injuries caused by the negligence of another subject to his orders. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Perry, 38 Tex. Civ. App. 81, 85 S. W. 62.

The Massachusetts Statute (Rev. Laws, c. 106, §§ 71–73) providing as regards injury to a servant through the negligence of one exercising superintendence, that "the employee or his legal representatives shall . . . have the same rights to compensation and of action against the employer as if he had not been an employee," etc., confers merely a right of action in favor of an employee, and does not entitle the father of a minor to recover for injuries to the minor caused by the negligence of a fellow servant exercising superintendence. Jordan v. New England Structural Co., (Mass. 1908) 83 N. E. 332.

The Massachusetts statute does not authorize a recovery by the representatives of a railway employee whose death is caused by the negligence of a fellow servant exercising superintendence. Piermarini v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 191 Mass. 9, 77 N. E. 306.

What Constitutes Act of Vice-principal within Scope of Authority. — Compher v. Missouri, etc., Telephone Co., 127 Mo. App. 553, 106 S. W. 536.

A crew of six or seven men, including respondent, were engaged in repairing a railway track, and appellant provided hand cars for the purpose of going to and from their work. At the time of the accident the other members of the crew propelled the car at such a high rate of speed that respondent lost his hold on the handle bars and fell from the car. There was no necessity for running the car so rapidly, and it was done thoughtlessly, in the spirit of fun, and for their own amusement, although respondent had asked them not to go so fast. It was held that in thus negligently overspeeding the car the men were engaged in the performance of their duty to the master, and were not acting without the scope of their authority.
